Technical Skills: Java, Python, C#, C, Assembly, Android Studio, HTML, Css, SQL, JavaScript, PowerPoint, Office 2018, Office365, Excel, Windows OS, Linux.

Projects:

Food Tracking App:	Built an Android app for a school project using Android Studio which searches food items and displays Macronutrients and keeps an inventory of food items.
TRU Literature Website:	In progress of designing a website for a student run literary magazine. To showcase fellow creative writing students' work as well as a final project for a web development class the idea morphed into a larger project with editors and artists. Used HTML, CSS and some JavaScript while working on this project.
Inventory:	Built an object-oriented Java program for a course assignment which maintained a simulated store inventory and point of sale system. Implemented pricing preferences, membership discounts, stock, cashier accounts, and output itemized receipts.
Temperature Converter:	Built an application in Android SDK which converted temperatures from Celsius to Fahrenheit or the converse. The application used spinners, text listeners, toast, and event handling to form a GUI while handling exceptions.
